HIGHER TRAINING ABROAD OF MEDICAL PERSONNEL

From

Harbans Singh, Esquire,
Assistant Secretary to the Government of India.

1. The High Commissioner for India, London.
2. First Secretary (Education),
   Embassy of India,

Subject: Higher training abroad of medical personnel.

Sir.

I am directed to say that there have been cases where candidates sent abroad by the Government of India for higher training in medicine and allied subjects have been allowed to take up Degrees and Diplomas in addition to the courses of training prescribed for them by Government, and the expenses of taking such examinations have been charged to Government. The policy of the Government of India in this matter is that a candidate sent abroad for higher training should first and foremost devote his attention to his prescribed course of training. Government desire that candidates should be discouraged from making Degrees and Diplomas their main object, and should only be allowed to take such Degrees and Diplomas if they can do so without in any way deviating from or causing prejudice to their prescribed courses or if the taking of such Degrees and Diplomas will actually lead to greater advantages in the prescribed course of training. In cases where these conditions are fulfilled and candidates are permitted to take Degrees and Diplomas, they should be given to understand clearly that the expenses of such examinations will be borne by them and not by Government.

Yours faithfully,

Sd/- Harbans Singh.

Assistant Secretary.
